WILCOMB-TOWNSEND HOME

To the Citizens of Chester, N. H.:

Having closed the Home until such time as it may be deemed wise to open it again, we insert in the Town Report a financial statement of the earnings under the past and present Boards of Trustees, which shows a creditable gain above expenses.

Doctors and Nurses have been in attendance when needed. Good food and in abundance. Whole house always comfortable and clean.

In the passing on of Mr. Martin Mills we have lost a very capable, consistent and faithful Trustee.

Seldom absent from Board meetings, where we would miss his good sound advice. By the passing on of Mrs. Sarah P. Prescott an inmate, her help in charitable ways will be missed. She was always ready to give to any good cause in Church and Town.

Board of Trustees.

THE GREAT HILL CEMETERY

During the year 1942 the Cemetery was seeded down and mowed resulting in a very good lawn. Lots were laid out, being marked with permanent markers laid flush with the ground permiting the use of a lawn mower. Many hours were given by the Trustees in completing this work, and Mr. Coleman's death was regretted as he had taken a great interest. Lots are ready on both sides of the drive and two have been sold. All lots are sold at 20 cents per square foot plus 50 cents per square foot for perpetual care. Lots vary in size and all lots in front of the circle have perpetual care.

ORGANIZATION & ADMINISTRATION

Chester was fortunate in having three of its teachers return. Mrs. Ruth Holmes, Mrs. Avis True and Miss Doris Fowler all returned to their schools. Mrs. Kathtyn Currier resigned to accept a position nearer home. Mrs. Emily Philbrook fortunately was secured to fill this vacancy. With four experienced teachers the educational opportunities offered Chester pupils were maintained at the usual level.

In these times when changing personnel introduce new problems and difficulties to the school as well as other types of organization the need of keeping the teaching force intact is apparent. Every reasonable endeavor to keep your present staff should be made in order to serve the educational welfare of the young people of Chester.

Decreased enrollment has eased the housing situation somewhat. The present first grade enrollment would seem to indicate that this is merely a temporary respite and the problem of proper housing is still a question which requires serious consideration and some planning for future developments.

In accord with the usual summer program all schools were thoroughly cleaned. The Grammar school room was painted and minor repairs made in the boys entrance. This year the school board contemplates doing only necessary repairs. The situation both as to materials and available man power make such a course seem advisable. At the same time attention is called to the need of flooring the rooms in the primary building. These floors should be replaced at the earliest opportunity for they are at present in poor condition.

Text book purchases have aimed at continuing the policy of replacing the older texts. The social science series in the upper grades have been replaced by a modern series with greater interest to the pupils. Materials:

which aid in the development of an extensive reading vocabulary have been used in the primary room. The development of reading skills is so essential that the policy of building a more complete supply of reading and supplementary texts should be continued for several years. With such a policy the development of desirable reading skills will make possible continued scholastic success for Chester pupils.

A consideration of the budget reveals that the proposals for the ensuing year have a gross increase of $414.65. Increased cost of supplies, fuel and personal service are the items which cause this apparent increase. A closer study of the budget reveals that careful financing of schools during 1942-43 has enabled the board to have an estimated increase in the cash on hand at the end of the year. This increase more than balances the increased budget so that the tax levy required to support the town schools is decreased. The decreased enrollment in high school tuitions is a major factor in this increased cash on hand.

This year there have been as few changes as possible in the schools of Chester. The demands of our national war economy have made it advisable to maintain standards by continuing the existing organizational and administrative procedures. The schools, pupils and teachers, have contributed in every organized and recognized war activity and despite the demands on pupil and teacher time and energy the work of the schools has functioned at nearly normal.

That this has been true is a fine commentary on the cooperation of the whole school community. Townspeople, parents, pupils school board and school officials have worked harmoniously that the educational opportunities for the young people of Chester may be the best.

Respectfully submitted

Everton H. Parkinson

Supt. of Schools.
